

OTIS T. WINGO DIES SUDDENLY

Over 200 Dead In German Coal Mine Explosion

No Hope For 61 Miners Remaining In Bottom of Shaft

Many Victims Reported to Be Critically Ill at Hospital

TO START INQUIRY Government Officials Meet to Investigate Cause of Blast

ALSDORF, Germany, Oct. 22.—(AP)—This morning word of 10,000 inhabitants was plunged into a new grief today with the realization that there was no hope for the escape or safety of 61 miners still entombed under the ground.

The death list now is certain to reach 231, with the bodies of 170 of the victims already recovered, this afternoon.

Ninety-nine are in hospitals, many of them reported to be in a critical condition.

It is thought that many of those under the ground tunnels are dropping their lives in an effort to reach their only means of escape two miles distant.

When rescue crews, wearing gas masks, reached the pit of the 1,500 foot level, a ghastly sight met their eyes, the victims lay scattered about the pit, all apparently asphyxiated. It was then that hopes were given up for those that remained in the mines.

Many of the victims were identified by their families and friends as they were taken from the shaft. Many visitors from other communities were gathered about the town today, police kept the crowds away from the mine property.

A government committee was to convene for the purpose of determining if possible the cause of the explosion.

Bulletins

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Chinese Press dispatches from Nanking, said this evening that 5000 men and women had been slaughtered since the capture of Kian, the latter part of last week.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 22.—(AP)—United States Senator Jesse H. Metcalf, Republican, in an address today said he favored the appeal of the 18th Amendment. He said he believed each state should control its liquor laws.

Accused Kidnapers In Pleas of Guilty

O. H. Lindsey and Pete James to Be Sentenced Later at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Oct. 22.—O. H. Lindsey, Searcy barber and Pete James, Augusta poolroom operator, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court Tuesday to charges of assault with intent to rob in connection with a kidnaping plot against W. N. Gregory, wealthy Augusta planter.

Sentence was deferred until November 10, when G. D. Cain of Clarksdale, Miss., and T. R. Fomand of Searcy, implicated by Lindsey in the kidnaping plot, will be tried. Action in the case of Earl Shepard of Searcy, facing a similar charge was postponed indefinitely. The case of Thomas McLeod of Clarksdale, Miss., the sixth man charged with complicity in the plot, was passed until November 10 of plea.

Attorneys for the defendants, who did not plead guilty, filed motions for a change of venue, but the motions and subsequent demurrers were overruled.

An attempt to kidnap Gregory for $25,000 ransom failed last month when Lindsey, in an alleged premature attempt to obtain the money, was overpowered by Gregory when he called at the Gregory home. Lindsey implicated the other five men.

The six defendants were brought back to Little Rock and taken to the penitentiary "walls" last night to be held until November 10. They were taken to Augusta Monday for examination by the Grand Jury after being held here since their arrest because of intense feeling of Augusta residents against them.

Fall Garden Shows Vegetable Variety

Woman Displays Twenty Varieties Home Grown Vegetables

A drouth lasting from May 17 until August 4 was not enough drouth to cut off the supply of fresh vegetables in Mrs. R. P. Sharp's garden.

Mrs. Sharp has had a continuous supply of a large number of vegetables and has made a display of 20 varieties at the Lawrence county fair at Imboden, held September 11-13. Her display included squashes, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, pumpkins, onions, lima beans, string beans, peas, kohlrabi, egg plant, tomatoes, cucumbers, salsify, okra, collards, sweet and hot peppers, mustard, radishes and turnips. In addition to this she had watermelons, cantaloupes and grapes on display.

Intensive and frequent cultivation was depended on to conserve the moisture in the soil. In the spring the garden plot was heavily manured before breaking the ground. Nitrate of soda had been used. The garden was kept free from weeds the entire summer, even to the fence corners, and cultivated every five to seven days.

Mrs. Sharp's father, Mr. Hartzell, is responsible for a fine prospect for fall Irish potatoes. The plot of ground was kept cultivated throughout the summer, and immediately following the rains in August, the potatoes were planted. They are now several inches high, and a good stand promises a fall crop.

Mrs. Sharp was chosen by Miss Gladys Waters, county home demonstration agent, as county garden demonstrator.

Ocean Flyers at Croyden Field

America and England again were linked by air when, as this NEA Service and Hope Star photo shows, the veteran monoplane Columbia flown by Capt. Errol Boyd and Lieut. Harry Connor, landed at Croyden Airdrome, near London. The plane, same one in which Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine crossed to Germany, had been forced down at the Scilly Islands, off the Cornwall coast. Connor, first, and Boyd are shown in the cockpit, where a dense crowd at the airport virtually held them prisoner for half an hour. Their smiles betrayed no trace of the hazardous twenty-three and a half hour flight, most of it bucking clouds, fog and heavy north-westerly winds.

Mother Is Charged With Girl's Murder

Alleged to Have Thrown Ten-Year-Old Child Into Lake

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Murder charges will be filed against Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin, for the murder of her ten year old step child, Leona, Bert Clark, an attorney announced today.

Officers investigating the brutal murder of 10-year-old Leona O'Loughlin, drowned in City Park lake, apparently have unearthed evidence of an attempt to exterminate other members of her family.

While officers continued to question Mrs. Leo O'Loughlin, stepmother of the child who was fed ground glass, beaten unconscious and thrown in a lake to drown, Leona's 74-year-old grandfather, Dennis O'Loughlin, made his appearance in the investigation.

He told officers he had found glass in the sugar served at a dinner at his home in Fort Collins, Colo., six weeks ago. Leo O'Loughlin, father of the slain girl, is now recovering from the effect of eating ground glass.

Investigators said it was established the glass in the sugar bowl at the Fort Collins dinner and that found in the slain girl and her father was identical.

Repeated questioning of the stepmother resulted in her constant denials of any part in the death of the girl.

Real "Tarzan" Found in Africa With Apes

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Eggar Rice Borroughs' "Tarzan of the Apes" has come to life here.

A native man child was seized by baboons while his mother was working in the fields and carried away. For 14 years he lived with the ape, until white men rescued him.

Today he is 30, but still has the ape habits and eats raw food. He was seized by the baboons when he lay sleeping and was found with a troop of baboons by a farmer.

Request For A Light Leads To His Arrest

PARIS, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Walking along one of the Paris Boulevards, a youth stopped Rene Dubois, police detective who happened to be off duty, and asked him for a light.

It was at night. The detective took out his lighter, held the flame to the other's cigarette. The youth lit up and was about to turn away with a nod of thanks when he felt a tap on his shoulder.

"Come with me" said the detective, "I think I know you." He was a well-known crook wanted by the police. He is awaiting trial.

Proud Ma—Oh, Jack, little Sue is just beginning to talk. She's learning to recite "Baa, baa, black sheep, have you any wool?"

Payment Asked on 50-Year-Old Scrip

County Scrip Found Dating Back as Far as 1877 in Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Oct. 22.—A bundle of city scrip, issued more than 50 years ago, has been brought to light here by John McCain, Jr., who found the scrip among the effects of his father, John H. McCain, who died several months ago from injuries received when struck by an automobile.

The scrip bears the dates of 1877, 1878, 1879 and 1880, and the question that is puzzling city officials is whether the city shall honor the scrip, which has been presented for payment.

Some of the limitations has run against the scrip, because in past administrations, calls have gone out for all outstanding scrip to be brought in to be canceled.

City Attorney N. J. Gantt is investigating and will report at the next meeting of the City Council.

Pine Bluff to Hold Air Circus Saturday-Sunday

PINE BLUFF, Oct. 22.—Under direction of Sig Smith, plans are being made for the largest air circus ever held here, Saturday and Sunday, under auspices of the Arkansas National Guard.

The circus will be held at Toney field from 1 to 5.

A feature will be the suspension of "Babe" Smith, 23-year-old record altitude parachute jumper, by a silk stocking from a plane piloted by her husband, Mrs. Smith recently broke the world's record parachute jump in St. Joseph, Mo., when she descended from 17,534 feet.

Former Jonesboro Police Charged With Assault

JONESBORO, Oct. 22.—Hardin Pierce, former Jonesboro Policeman, arrested Saturday on a statutory charge, was admitted to bond in habeas corpus proceedings before County Judge A. D. Weems yesterday and was released when he made bond of $5,000.

Pierce was jailed Saturday night following charges made by a young woman of Monette. She charged that Pierce was drunk and forced her to go to a garage with him at the point of a pistol.

Police Seek Assailant of 2 Rogers, Ark., Women

ROGERS, Oct. 22.—Police here are hunting for a man who attempted to attack a Rogers woman on a residence street last Saturday night. The woman was returning to her home from the business district when the man leaped upon her from behind a tree, throwing her to the pavement. He fled when she screamed.

Recently a maid in a home here was assaulted as she slept. Police believe the woman were victims of the same assailant.

7 Are Nabbed in Auto Theft Ring Near Pine Bluff

Jefferson County Police Unravel Mystery of Stolen Automobiles

20 CARS DISAPPEAR Six Other Men Sought as Search For Gang Members Widens

PINE BLUFF, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Police today announced the arrest of seven men, and six more are being sought in one of the largest automobile theft rings in the history of this vicinity.

Six of the arrests were made here and one man is held in Dallas, Texas. Police announced that 10 automobiles stolen recently had been recovered, four of which were stolen in Little Rock.

Those under arrest are: E. C. Steen, Bill Putman, Lee and Red Austin, "Slim" Clary, all of Pine Bluff; and Talley Smith, of Altitude.

W. G. Steen was arrested in Dallas, police here were informed. All will be tried on charges of grand larceny. It was announced by officers here today.

Sheriff Garland Brewster said today that the gang had been operating for about six months, during which time a score or more cars have been stolen.

Members of the alleged gang are said to have changed the motor numbers on all stolen cars, with special dies.

Five Counties Free From Cattle Tick

Quarantine to Be Lifted December 1, From Affected Area

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The five counties in Southwest Arkansas where tick eradication has been carried on for the past year and one half will be released and the quarantine lifted on December 1, it was announced today.

W. M. McKellar, of Washington, D. C., assistant director of animal husbandry, has been in Little Rock for the past few days and made this announcement to W. A. McDonald, inspector of the state bureau.

The counties are Miller, Clark, Howard, Hot Spring and Pike.

Gasoline Explodes Five Are Injured

Mistake Gasoline For Kerosene in Starting Fire Today

HARRISBURG, Ark., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Five members of a family were burned severely here today by a fire which destroyed their home.

C. R. Crogean, 50, suffered burns that physicians feared would prove fatal. Don Crogean, 4, is in a critical condition. Mrs. Nettie Crogean, mother of Don and two other children, Duke 6 and Harold 2, were injured less seriously.

C. R. Crogean is the father-in-law of Mrs. Nettie Crogean.

Mrs. Crogean said that the mistaken use of gasoline for kerosene in starting a fire in the cook stove early was responsible for the explosion.

Sea Cheats Gendarmes Pursuing Love Slayer

BOULOGNE, France, Oct. 21.—(UP)—The sea lashed to fury by a howling gale cheated justice here.

Jean Lefebvre, 25, shot and killed a young widow who spurned his love. He fled along the sea-cliff, pursued by gendarmes. In danger of being hanged, he jumped from the cliffs on to the beach below without injury, then he jumped into a shallow cove.

At that moment, a huge wave swept in and caught Lefebvre, dragging him out of his depth. He was drowned while his pursuers stood watching.

Bounties Fail to Halt Increase of Weasels

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Like the miracle of the loaves and fishes, the little weasel, or weasel, is said to be on the increase in Pennsylvania in spite of the fact that $54,000 was paid in bounties on their pelts last year at $1.00 per pelt.

The killing of weasels for bounties has averaged 47,000 a year for the past 15 years and the game commission says 100,000 a year will have to be killed before the increase is checked.

He Killed West's Worst Bad Man

To this Los Angeles police officer goes the distinction of having ended the career of Jake Fleagle, bandit and murderer and noted as the southwest's worst desperado since Jesse James. The officer, Harry N. Wilde, shot Fleagle at Branson, Mo., when the bandit was trapped in a railroad chair by half a dozen detectives. Fleagle died in a hospital.

Three Killed When Sedan Is Ditched

Fourth Member of Party Said to Be Fatally Injured

SALISBURG, Conn., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Two youths and a girl met death in an automobile accident late last night and another girl is reported dying in a hospital. They were riding in a large sedan, driven by William Mosely, who escaped injury.

Miss Helen Adams was instantly killed; Alfred Casey died a few minutes after the crash; Robert Cornden, died a few hours after being taken to a hospital. Miss Julia Regalis is in a hospital, where physicians say there is no hope for her recovery.

The party were returning from a dance when the accident occurred.

Canning Results In Great Saving

Two Veals Are Canned For One Family at Melbourne, Ark.

MELBOURNE, Ark., Oct. 22.—The office of the Izard county agents was converted into a community meat canning center recently when two veals were canned for G. H. Miller of this place.

Miss Helen Morgan, the new home demonstration agent, has been in the county only one week, but judging from the crowd that attended a demonstration and the interest shown, she had been busy that one week.

Forty-four men and women from 10 different communities saw the work and several requests for whole beef canning were made during the day. Seven home demonstration agents and two county agents came from other counties to see and assist with this demonstration.

The two veals weighed 200 pounds dressed and could have been sold on foot for $8.00. The cost of canning which included cans, fuel, seasoning, chilling, and labor, amounted to $8.23. The finished products consisted of: 17 No. 3 cans of roast, valued at $10.20; 7 No. 3 cans steak, $4.20; 1 No. 3 can heart, 40c; 6 No. 3 cans stew, $2.40; 5 No. 3 cans soup stock, $2.00; 26 No. 2 cans chili, $7.50; 5 No. 2 cans liver paste, $2.00; 2 No. 2 cans ham-burger steak, 60c; 12 No. 2 cans stew, $3.60; 3 No. 2 cans steak gravy, 30c; or a total of $33.50.

After deducting the cost there was a profit of $25.50.

Friday and Thirteenth Lucky For This Police

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Friday and the 13th, both of which by some are looked upon as inauspicious days, are lucky for one Hubert Langevin, director of the Montreal police department. Even April Fool's Day has been kind to him.

Langevin first donned a Montreal policeman's uniform on Friday, Aug. 13, 1902. On April 1, 1925, he was promoted from captain to inspector. Three years later, on September 13, he was made chief of police. Then, one Friday a few weeks later, he was made director.

Fourth District Representative Dies in Maryland

Four Jailed in Connection With Paragould Robbery

PARAGOULD, Oct. 22.—Four men were in jail here today in connection with the robbery of Standard Oil Company's safe of about $140 here Sunday night.

They are Huber Dodd, aged 27, and Less Dodd, 26, both of Boydsville, Clay county; and Joe Bradley, 18, and Fred McCarroll, 35, both of Rosebud, Clayborn county. The four were arrested yesterday by Jonesboro officers upon information furnished by Sheriff Leen Waldrum and were returned here last night by local deputies. The prisoners say that they were in Jonesboro Sunday night. Sheriff Waldrum said that they were seen here the evening of the robbery.

Curing Beef Is Economy Measure

Cured Beef May Also Be Canned Later According to Expert

Any part of the beef may be cured, but the cheaper cuts, such as plate, rump and chuck, are generally used, advises Miss Ruby Mendenhall, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture, Extension Service. The briskeet plate is especially recommended because of the character of the fat, which is somewhat like a tallow.

Cut the beef into squares of about the size that will be wanted for cooking; 5 or 6 inches square is a good size. Cut them as uniform in thickness as possible, so that they may be packed in even layers in the curing vessel. It is best to remove the bones. When the meat is thoroughly chilled put into pickle. Meat that has stood for sometime is unwholesome and will probably sour during the curing process. Never put frozen meat in cure.

Weigh the meat and for each 100 pounds allow 8 pounds of salt. Use a clean hardwood keg, barrel, or stone jar for curing. Cover the bottom of the vessel with a layer of salt 1-4 inch deep. Rub each piece of meat lightly with salt and pack the pieces as closely as possible, making a layer 5 or 6 inches thick. Sprinkle a thin layer of salt between each layer of meat and cover the top layer with a considerable amount of salt.

Allow the salted meat to stand over night, then add a solution made of ingredients in the following proportions:

For each 100 pounds of meat use 4 pounds of sugar, 2 ounces of baking soda, and 4 ounces of saltpeter dissolved in 1 gallon of lukewarm water. Mix thoroughly, cool, and pour over meat. Then add 3 gallons of water. Keep the meat entirely under the brine by using a loose cover with a weight on it. If any of the meat gets out of the brine it causes the brine to spoil in a very short time. Keep the container in a cool place because the sugar in the brine has a tendency to ferment. The meat will cure best at a temperature of about 38 degrees F.

After about 5 days overhaul and repack so that the pieces that were on top will be on the bottom. Pour back the same brine and 5 days later repeat the overhauling. This will insure more rapid and uniform curing of the meat. Examine the brine when the meat is overhauled and if it isropy or begins to mold remove the meat and rinse each piece with clear water. Scald the container and repack the meat as at first with a little salt. Scald the brine and skin. Let it cool and pour it back over the meat. Corned beef is good after a week in cure, but to cure thoroughly keep it in brine from 28 to 40 days. After it is cured and removed from the brine, it is ready to be canned or to be hung in a dry place and allowed to drain thoroughly. Then smoked just as any other meat.

Canning Cured Beef

Pack into sterilized containers and process No. 3 tin cans or quart glass jars for 60 minutes at 15 pounds pressure, and No. 2 tin cans or pint glass jars for 55 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Blow During Fight Fatal For Mississippi Youth

AMORY, Miss., Oct. 22.—(AP)—His skull fractured by a blow with an ax, Mitchell Picicle, 19-year-old bride groom, died in a hospital here today, and police immediately began a search for a man named Jenkins.

Police said Picicle had engaged in a quarrel with Jenkins a few minutes before he was struck down. Picicle was struck down while repairing a tire at the home of Norman Adams, his father-in-law.

Was Among State's Veteran Members In National House

DeQueen Congressman Dies in Hospital at Baltimore, Maryland

HEADED 11 COUNTIES Had Been Member of National House For 18 Years

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Uncertainty surrounds the election of a successor to the late Otis T. Wingo, congressman from the Fourth Arkansas district, who died last night at Baltimore.

Attorney General Hal L. Wood is of the opinion that it is too late to place the name of a candidate on the ballot to fill the vacancy at the general election November 4, the ticket having closed October 14. Governor Parnell must call a special election in the Fourth district to select Mr. Wingo's successor.

Wingo, a general business man, was a member of the Democratic state committee to put a man on the ballot November 4th to serve out Mr. Wingo's present term, which ends March 4, 1931. Unless this is done, Arkansas will have one less seat in congress until the beginning of the new term next March, which time a special election will have selected a new congressman.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Otis T. Wingo, Democratic member of the House of Representatives from Arkansas, died Tuesday night at Johns Hopkins hospital, where he had been undergoing treatment for a fortnight. Hospital officials said he underwent a gall bladder operation yesterday.

He was born in 1877 and is survived by his wife, a son and daughter. Mr. Wingo was elected as congressman from the Fourth district of Arkansas in 1912. He took office the following year and had served continuously since. At the time of his death he was the senior Democrat on the Banking and Currency Committee of the House of Representatives.

An illness from which he suffered for more than a year, prevented his return to his home at DeQueen, after the last Congress and he had made his home at an apartment in Washington.

The operation was the second he underwent this year. The first was performed in June.

In Congress he opposed "too much government" and in 1923 advocated the repeal of 40,000 laws so that "the processes of life would be more decent and orderly."

Representative Wingo is the twenty-second member of the House to die during the Seventy-first Congress.

Mr. Wingo was one of the old-time Democrats in the House. He was ranking minority member of the Banking and Currency Committee and for the last several years had taken particular interest in food control and farm relief legislation.

During the past few years he had been in ill health, and last year underwent "an operation at the Naval hospital here. Only last Saturday, his office announced it was thought he would recover within a few weeks.

Funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

Native of Tennessee

Mr. Wingo was born in Weakley county, Tennessee, June 18, 1877. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Wingo. He was educated at Bethel College, McKenzie, Tenn.; McFerrin College, Martin, Tenn.; and Valparaiso (Ind.) University.

He married Miss Effie Gene Locke of DeQueen, October 15, 1902. A son and a daughter, Janie Blanche and Otis T. Wingo, were born to them.

Mr. Wingo was admitted to the Arkansas bar in 1900 and became a member of the state Senate in 1907. He served only one

Hope Star

Published every week-day afternoon by STAR PUBLISHING CO.
C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Member of The Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Subscription Rates: (Always Payable in Advance) By city carrier, per month $1.50; six months $8.75; one year $16.50; in advance. Outside of city, per month $1.75; six months $10.50; one year $19.50. Single copies, 10 cents.

The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to widely disseminate information, and to furnish the citizen with government which is efficient, honest and to the benefit of the people.—Col. R. E. McCormick.

The Star's Platform

CITY
Apply the revenues of the municipal power plant to develop the industrial and social resources of Hope.
Improve city government in 1930; and improved sanitary conditions in the alleys and business back-ways.
Support the Chamber of Commerce.

COUNTY
A county highway program providing for the construction of a minimum amount of all-weather road each year, to gradually reduce the dirt road mileage.
Political and economic support for every scientific agricultural program, which offers practical benefits to Hempstead county, great or small.
Encourage farmer organizations, believing that co-operative effort is as practical in the country as it is in town.

STATE
Continued progress on the state highway program.
Fearless tax reform, and a more efficient government through the budget system of expenditures.
Free Arkansas from the cattle tick.

Dirigibles 20 Years Ago

IN ONE of those little "Twenty Years Ago Today" columns in a New newspaper there occurred recently the reminder that it was just 20 years ago this month that the first dirigible trans-Atlantic flight was attempted.

In October of 1910 Walter Wellman took off at Atlantic City in the dirigible balloon, hoping fondly that he and his crew would be able to fly to Europe.

His hope was cruelly dashed, as it happened. A relatively short distance from land the dirigible was forced down in the ocean; and only the fact that the gondola had been constructed as a detachable lifeboat saved Wellman and his men from meeting the fate that has befallen so many trans-Atlantic flyers since their day. As it was, they managed to stay afloat until a steamer could pick them up.

Wellman's comments after the event are interesting. As this writer remembers it, he said that dirigibles could never be commercially useful. For sport, for exploration and for war he believed, they would be very serviceable; but he did not see how anyone could hope to fly the Atlantic in them and make it a paying proposition.

A good many things have happened to dirigibles since that day, and some of Wellman's remarks sound rather quaint at this distance, but it is worth noting that commercial transportation by dirigibles is not with us yet, in spite of all the progress that has been made. There has been enormous improvement, of course; the dirigible he used had as much in common with a ship like the Graf Zeppelin as Columbus' flagship had with the Leviathan; but a great deal of work is still to be done.

The task of perfecting the dirigible has been costly, and the men who died in the R-101 the other day number only a few among the great many who have given their lives to test out this form of transportation. Yet there is a fascination to the idea of traveling by dirigible that keeps men from dropping it. In spite of all handicaps, it seems safe to assume that the experimentation will continue until Wellman's 20-year-old verdict is thoroughly confounded.

Some Good Police Work

THE capture of Jake Fleagle, notorious bank bandit, is a striking and encouraging example of the way in which the law can deal out justice to outlaws when the right sort of effort is made.

Fleagle, with his gang of helpers, held up a bank in Lamar, Colo., two years ago last May, got away with $238,000 and killed four men. The authorities who got on the trail did not have much to go on. No witnesses were able to say who any of the men were. The fugitives escaped entirely, and no one had the faintest notion where, in all the broad United States, to look for them.

But the officers buckled down and kept busy. They had one finger print, obtained from an abandoned automobile. After months of work, this finger print was identified as that of Jake Fleagle, who had served a term in an Oklahoma prison.

The officers found out where Fleagle lived, and by dint of good detective work found out where he and his co-robbers were hanging out. One by one, they caught the gang. Ralph Fleagle and two others died on the gallows in expiation of their crime. Jake Fleagle, trapped in Missouri, was shot down and died in a hospital before he could be tried. Society, in the end, scored a victory.

This sort of retribution does not often camp on the trail of American bandits; but it is encouraging to know that it can happen. Our police officers, in other words, are quite as capable of staging a relentless and efficient man-hunt as the highly-praised police of England and France, if they are given a free hand.

This, in turn suggests that the reason for the continued and scandalous immunity of our big city gunmen does not lie in the inefficiency of the police so much as in the political connections enjoyed by these gunmen. The nemesis that overtakes the Fleagle gang could overtake gangs everywhere if the police were allowed to go ahead without fear of interference.

The task confronting America, then, lies not so much in refiguring police procedure as in killing the alliance between politics and crime. We have the machinery, right now, for efficient work in detecting and punishing crime. We need only to make it possible for this machinery to work as it should.

Jobs Instead of Charity

THE city of Cleveland recently took an admirably sensible measure to ease the unemployment situation. Instead of voting money for charity, the city council voted a $200,000 bond issue for the immediate commencement of certain public works, and 2000 men will be given jobs as a result.

That is the sort of unemployment relief that really means something. When you give a hungry man a bowl of soup and a cup of coffee you are relieving an immediate need, but you are not solving the underlying problem. What the man needs more than a meal is a job. No matter how much charity you dispense, you haven't helped him very much unless you have made his chance of getting work brighter. That is why this Cleveland plan deserves copying widely.

Jobs Instead of Charity

THE city of Cleveland recently took an admirably sensible measure to ease the unemployment situation. Instead of voting money for charity, the city council voted a $200,000 bond issue for the immediate commencement of certain public works, and 2000 men will be given jobs as a result.

That is the sort of unemployment relief that really means something. When you give a hungry man a bowl of soup and a cup of coffee you are relieving an immediate need, but you are not solving the underlying problem. What the man needs more than a meal is a job. No matter how much charity you dispense, you haven't helped him very much unless you have made his chance of getting work brighter. That is why this Cleveland plan deserves copying widely.

Drop by Drop Will Wear Away the Hardest Stone!

GIVE-A-JOB!
NO JOB TOO LARGE
AND NONE TOO SMALL!
EVERY LITTLE
GIVE-A-JOB
HELPS!

ODD JOBS CAMPAIGN

Daily Cross-word Puzzle

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

ACROSS
1. Maddest
2. Part of a wooden joint
3. Ancient wine vessel
4. Tender on a ship
5. Acronym
6. Puma
7. Part of a ship
8. Compulsion
9. Make a mistake
10. American humorist
11. Adjust
12. Broken down
13. Godly woman
14. Poem
15. Rescued
16. Final
17. American humorist
18. Bulldog
19. Aesop
20. East Indian garment
21. Bird's winter food
22. Ralph's wife
23. From a ship
24. 600 sheets of paper
25. Carol
26. First garden
27. Bird's nest
28. Roundly
29. Tootles
30. Devoured

DOWN
1. Native metals
2. Cuddle
3. Clumsy boat
4. Single air-ventilator
5. Among
6. Utter
7. All distribution
8. Naval officers
9. Laughed to scorn
10. Tailor
11. Mature
12. Actual
13. Scottish surgeon
14. Quail
15. Justification
16. Tempering
17. Diligent
18. Basille
19. Marine, Baham
20. Pucc
21. Rugged mountain
22. Plain cross
23. Plaything
24. German city
25. European
26. Book of fiction
27. Web-footed
28. Down
29. Membership charges
30. Time exposed to it
31. Shed tears
32. Light tower
33. Wing
34. Joke or a tree

ACROSS
1. Maddest
2. Part of a wooden joint
3. Ancient wine vessel
4. Tender on a ship
5. Acronym
6. Puma
7. Part of a ship
8. Compulsion
9. Make a mistake
10. American humorist
11. Adjust
12. Broken down
13. Godly woman
14. Poem
15. Rescued
16. Final
17. American humorist
18. Bulldog
19. Aesop
20. East Indian garment
21. Bird's winter food
22. Ralph's wife
23. From a ship
24. 600 sheets of paper
25. Carol
26. First garden
27. Bird's nest
28. Roundly
29. Tootles
30. Devoured

DOWN
1. Native metals
2. Cuddle
3. Clumsy boat
4. Single air-ventilator
5. Among
6. Utter
7. All distribution
8. Naval officers
9. Laughed to scorn
10. Tailor
11. Mature
12. Actual
13. Scottish surgeon
14. Quail
15. Justification
16. Tempering
17. Diligent
18. Basille
19. Marine, Baham
20. Pucc
21. Rugged mountain
22. Plain cross
23. Plaything
24. German city
25. European
26. Book of fiction
27. Web-footed
28. Down
29. Membership charges
30. Time exposed to it
31. Shed tears
32. Light tower
33. Wing
34. Joke or a tree

NEW ORLEANS SEEKS RATE PARITY WITH TEXAS PORTS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—(UP)—An effort to place the port of New Orleans on a parity with Texas ports in the matter of grain exports is the policy of the United Fruit company and the New Orleans and South American Steamship company, according to announcement recently.

In order to bring this about, they are absorbing the differential in rail rates on grain and grain products.

BARBS

Judging from the time they had at the Boston convention, the legionnaires are apparently able to distinguish now between reveille and reveille.

A Chicagoan has willed a box of candy to the Coolidges. It is a question now whether Cal will come out in his column with the crack he does not chew to accept.

The couple dancing their way across the continent are understood to have adopted as their slogan: "A mile a minute."

An orchestra player at a Spanish bull fight fell in the ring and was gored. The bull probably was anxious to show how the horns should be played.

Jobs Instead of Charity

THE city of Cleveland recently took an admirably sensible measure to ease the unemployment situation. Instead of voting money for charity, the city council voted a $200,000 bond issue for the immediate commencement of certain public works, and 2000 men will be given jobs as a result.

That is the sort of unemployment relief that really means something. When you give a hungry man a bowl of soup and a cup of coffee you are relieving an immediate need, but you are not solving the underlying problem. What the man needs more than a meal is a job. No matter how much charity you dispense, you haven't helped him very much unless you have made his chance of getting work brighter. That is why this Cleveland plan deserves copying widely.

Believe 'Father of Waters' Is Purifier

Each Year Thousands of Sinners Are Immersed in River

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Negro Baptists believe that the chocolate water of the Mississippi is a great purifier. Every year thousands of "sinners" are immersed in the river.

Ferry passengers have frequent occasion to see an epochal event in negro Baptist religious life—baptism in the Mississippi river.

It is usually on Sunday, on the west bank of the river, opposite New Orleans. Swathed in long, loose white robes and hoods the negroes parade down the levee slopes and step into the murky river. There they stand waist deep until their turn comes to be baptized.

The officiating clergy and deacons, clad in black and white robes, half immersed, receive the candidates.

The "head man" takes hold of the candidate and with a rolling bass chant: "I baptize thee in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the H-o-o-y G-o-s," and, seizing the initiate's nose, immerses him.

As the candidates parade up to be baptized a group of negroes on a pier sing "Hallelujahs" and chant triumphant hymns in deep, rich voices.

The initiates, especially the women, as they are immersed, shriek for the salvation of their souls.

After the baptism is over the "full-fledged" Baptists step out of the muddy current and go home.

Phasants Eat Fruits to Get Drink of Water

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Phasants and other birds do not attack melons, tomatoes and berries because they have a particular liking for them, but because fruits and vegetables contain water which slakes their thirst, California game officials have discovered.

It is not necessary to use rifle or shotgun to keep the birds away from fruit and vegetable crops if containers with water are placed at convenient points where pheasants and other feathered species are found in abundance the officials report.

START With a Caterpillar END with a Profit

A sure way to get your farm work done quicker, better and cheaper.

"Caterpillar" Twenty Tractor and Disc Plow breaking approximately 12 acres per 10-hour day at a minimum expense.

Farmers of today must increase their yield per acre yet decrease the cost of production to such an extent that they can make a profit under existing conditions—the answer is—Machinery powered by strong "Caterpillar" Tractors, sure-footed, economical and of proven quality and workmanship.

Investigate before buying your next farm tractor!

Arkansas Tractor & Equipment Co.

Complete Stock of Parts (In Hand at All Times).

Phone 2-1591

120 COMMERCE ST. LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

J. A. RIGGS, Sec'y and Mgr.

Efficient Service to Make Repair Prompt

BATTERIES
RENTED
REPAIRED
RECHARGED

13 Plate Acme Battery $5.95 Exchange

P. A. Lewis Motor Company
Phone 7-7-7

SOCIETY

Mrs. Sid Henry

Telephone 321

There are those who contend as this life road they wend That they purpose to have a good time Without thought of the morrow—no care do they borrow Of stern duty or honor sublime. There are others who say as they travel life's way, "Oh, I'll never live this life again, So I'll give of my best to meet life's every test, That my life may be lived not in vain." Now be honest and true, which appeals most to you, As you ponder the viewpoints we've quoted? Would you live just for fun, or to win in life's run, To your God and your ideals devoted? —Selected.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Whitworth and children were called to Arkadelphia this afternoon to attend the funeral of Mr. Whitworth's grandmother, Mrs. E. E. Whitworth.

Mrs. J. L. Green and Mrs. Elbert Jones spent today visiting in Texarkana.

The Althean class of the First Baptist Sunday school will hold their regular monthly business and social meeting, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church annex, and each member of the class is urged to be present, as this is the first meeting of the new Sunday school year. The entertainment committee has provided plenty of amusement for the occasion, and it is urged that all members try and be present.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Reed spent Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Blake in Minden, La.

Mrs. Jack Yarbrough of Memphis arrived in the city yesterday for a few days visit with friends. Mrs. Yarbrough will be remembered as Miss Annie Folsom.

Miss Virginia Fitzsimmons and Miss Florence Risdon visited in Washington today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Green have returned from a visit with relatives in Idaho.

Mrs. B. S. Rhea formerly of this city, now of Lebanon, Tenn., will arrive Friday for a week end visit with Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Richards. Mrs. Rhea will be remembered by old friends as having come to our city as the bride of Dr. B. S. Rhea, who at that time was one of Hope's most popular physicians.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Moore of De Queen were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Briant.

Mrs. Charles Wingfield had as guest today, her sister, Mrs. D. H. Logan of Prescott.

Mrs. E. P. Hamilton, state secretary, Rebekah Assembly of the I. O. O. F. of Arkansas, will leave Friday for a week end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hamilton in Russellville, before attending the State Assembly meeting in Eureka Springs, Oct. 27, 28 and 29.

Mrs. K. G. McRae, Jr. was hostess yesterday afternoon to the members of the Tuesday Bridge club and a few invited guests. The rooms were bright with lovely fall flowers and bridge was played from two tables. Mrs. T. S. McDonald scored high for the club and Mrs. G. J. McGregor for the guests. Following the game, the hostess served a most delicious salad plate.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spencer entertained at a beautifully planned bridge party last evening at their home in Brookwood. The rooms were decorated with a profusion of lovely autumn flowers and arranged for six tables. High score for the ladies was made by Mrs. A. K. Holloway for the gentlemen, by T. S. McDonald. At the close of the game, the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. Frances Jane Hays of Little Rock and Mrs. L. M. McWilliams served a most tempting salad plate with coffee.

Mrs. J. D. Barlow and Mrs. Ethel Bemis of Prescott left Saturday for a visit of several weeks in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mrs. J. R. Henry, Sr., is in Little Rock this week visiting with friends and attending the Episcopal Synod.

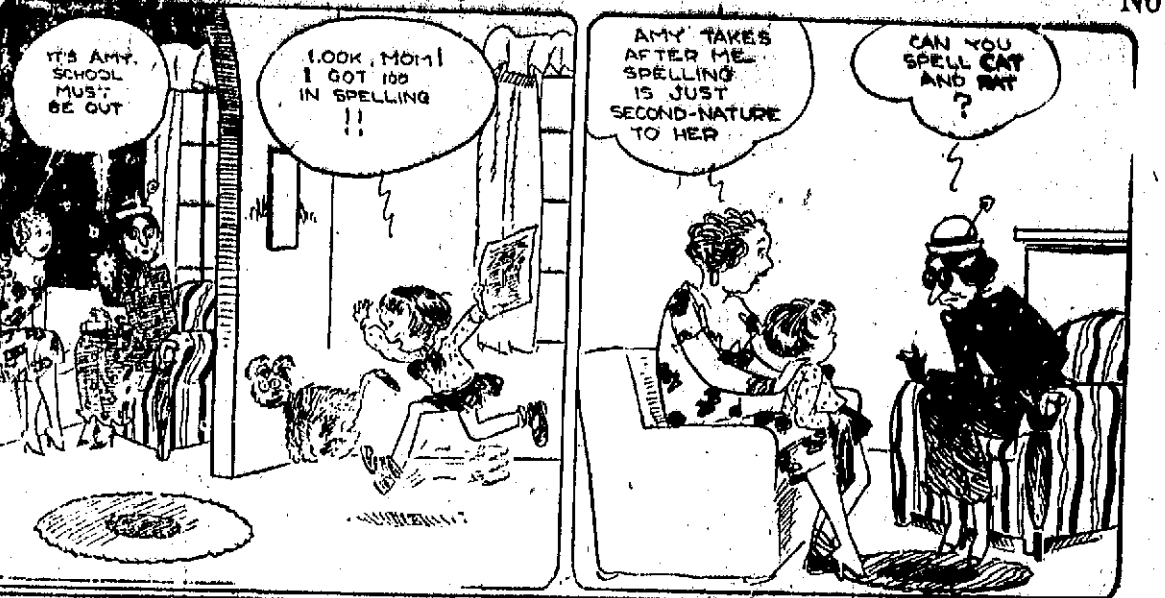

John E. Barlow left last night for Little Rock to attend the Episcopal Synod convening in that city this week.

Yznaga—Yznaga was one of the best men who ever lived.

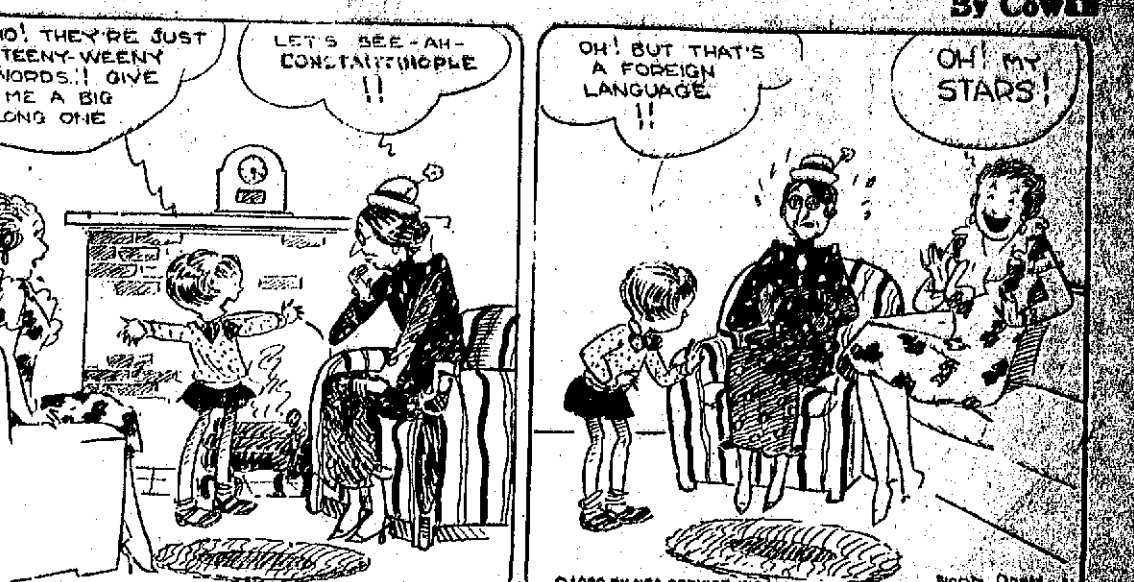

Swig—How do you know?

Yznaga—I married his widow.

MOM'N POP

No Fair!

Miss Thelma Cobb B.&P. Club Hostess

Interesting Program Presented at Hotel Barlow Last Evening

The Hope B. & P. W. club held its second October meeting at the Hotel Barlow yesterday evening, with Miss Thelma Jo Cobb, hostess. A large attendance was present and the long dining tables were made most attractive with tall vases of pink roses, while the place cards stressed the Halloween motif. A delicious five course dinner was served by the hotel management.

Miss Cobb's program dealt with women who are prominent in political life and introduced as the first speaker of the evening, Miss Clarice Cannon, who gave a most interesting address, with Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican candidate for United States Senator from Illinois, as her subject. Miss Cannon said Mrs. McCormick has been noted for her ability to get what she wanted, and while she is now opposing one of the most ardent campaigners in the country, J. Hamilton Lewis, and her own party is split on the subject of prohibition, she was undaunted and was literally knocking at the doors of the United States Senate. Mrs. McCormick has inherited many of the dominant qualities of her father, Mark Hanna, who is credited with having more to do with making William McKinley president, than any other single power. Should Mrs. McCormick be elected, she will be the first woman to have achieved this honor in its true sense, though it is not to be forgotten that Mrs. Felton of Georgia served in the Senate for one day, as a mark of courtesy, however.

Mrs. Frank Hicks to the life and work of Martha L. Connelley of East St. Louis, Ill., who advanced from a farmer's daughter, via the country school room, to one of the most noted legal authorities in her state. For three years she was National Legislative Chairman of the B. & P. W. and her work in that connection was so spectacular that she achieved country-wide recognition. At present, she is public administrator of St. Clair county, of which East St. Louis is the county seat. She is a brilliant orator and freely gives her talents to any cause which she sees fit to espouse. Her work is especially along the lines of betterment of woman and child welfare and her recent publicity was achieved by her statement that women in business are not desirable, but that she should remain in the home and confine her activities to that sphere, solely.

Dr. Elta Champlin gave a comprehensive report of the Regional Conference held on October 17, 18 and 19 in Hot Springs, which was attended by a majority of the National Federation officers. Dr. Champlin stated that there were, at present, 60,000 active B. & P. W. club members, that at a recent conference in Geneva, twenty countries were represented, and that the work is progressing most favorably along all lines. Miss Marion McClench, president of the Federation, stated that 14,000 boys and girls had been assisted through school by B. & P. W. women and that the cause of education should not be forgotten in the stress which often accompanies the activities of local organizations. More than three hundred business and professional women were in attendance at this conference. Mrs. Talbot Field stressed the cause of good music in the development of the full-rounded life and stated that she would soon begin a series of music appreciation talks before the club. Accompanied by Miss Volle Reed, she sang "Mistress Margarita," "Little Grey Home in the West," and led her audience in singing the club song, "The Golden Key," by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

In a clever Halloween contest, Mrs. Frank Hicks won the marathon, and was awarded a dainty prize. During the business session, with Miss Mary Arnold presiding, matters of routine importance were disposed of, and it was announced that Mrs. Ella Quigg of El Dorado has succeeded

Miss Ruth Alice Wilson as chairman of the Sixth District.

It was decided to re-write the Club's Constitution and By-Laws, and Miss Arnold was instructed to appoint a committee for this purpose.

It was announced that the sixth anniversary of the Club's founding would be observed on the first Tuesday evening in November at the Hotel Barlow, with Mrs. W. G. McDonald of Little Rock, a charter member, hostess. This is to be a guest night and it is hoped that a one hundred per cent attendance will be present.

Miss Nan Neal, a member of the Altus, Okla., club, was a guest and number of recently inducted members were also present for the first time.

Smoke Adjourns Session

LEICESTER, (UP)—A conference of the National Smoke Abatement Society had to be adjourned half an hour while the hall was cleared of smoke from the pipes, cigars and cigarettes of the delegates.

Rippy—McBoob boasts that his wife made him all that he is. Dippy—That is not boasting, it's apologizing.—Arkansas Banker.

Prescription Druggists

WARD & SON
"We've got it"
The leading druggists
Phone 6

After Supper Sale

From 7 p.m. Until 9:30 p.m. only
Thursday Night October 23rd.

Just unpacked—several dozen new, high type garments which are included in this spectacular event. Bought at a bargain, they can be sold at a bargain.

After Supper Thursday Night

One hundred and fifty new styles in Dresses, at a remarkable low price for these two hours Thursday night only! Style-wise shoppers will recognize the value of these new styles in

Lovely Dresses $7.95

Real bargains, every one. Real styles—each one of the lot. The advance modes for fall, featuring the new Russian tunic, new fabrics, fashions, lines, details and embellishments. It will be easy to select one for your particular type from such a large collection. And only $7.95.

Included are a few new style Dresses which were overlooked in the off to school rush. But these prices have been reduced, and there are dozens of new dresses in the lot.

One and two piece Fall Dresses, of flat crepe, silk and wool travelers tweed, knitted suits and every wanted material. Value! Style! Quality! Another Specialty Shop triumph in merchandising.

EVERY SALE FINAL

These sale prices are for cash only—no exchanges, no alterations, and no refunds. Nothing but bargains.

Ladies Silk Hose A special inducement for this after supper sale. Your choice of dozens of pairs of all chiffon silk hose in new shades for only 89c	Silk Underwear Sale An assortment of bloomers, teddies, step-in sets, onesalls, and petticoats. Regular $1.98 values for only 89c	Special—Ladies Hats Closing out one of the largest showings of correct Fall and Winter modes in Ladies and Misses Hats. All head sizes. 89c
---	---	--

Only four items offered at bargain prices Thursday night. Nothing else in the store is included.

Ladies Specialty Shop

"Exclusive But Not Expensive"

A SUPPLE FELT is used for this new version of the borel. The crown is tucked and draped low on one side and held by a band of the felt with a gold metal buckle.

Save Your Shoes!
P. J. SUTTON
SHOE SHOP

LAST DAY
SCOTLAND YARD

—With—
Joan Bennett
Edmund Lowe
OTHER FEATURES

PHONE 133
SAENGER

Thursday-Friday
CLARA BOW

"Her Wedding Night"
A Paramount Picture

Attend Our
Bargain Matinee
2 Till 3
10c and 25c

Thrift—sets the Fashion

Warm—Serviceable—Economical

Winter Underwear for All the Family

Medium Weight Union Suits for women 98c Fine combed cotton with close-set rayon stripe. Choice of styles. Sizes 34 to 50.	Girls' Heavy Union Suits 2-6 yrs. 59c 10-16 yrs 79c Splendid value in a good warm union suit! White cotton, lightly dyed; in popular styles.	Childrens' Taped Union Suits Waist Sizes 2 to 12 49c Heavy weight cotton, lightly dyed for added warmth. Well made; wanted styles.
---	---	---

Heavyweight Cotton Union Suits Sizes to 52 98c Heavy weight (16 lb.) cotton union suits—warm, sturdy underwear in a choice of colors. An outstanding value!	Union Suits for Boys 2 to 8 years 69c 10 to 16 years 89c Ready now for the first chill days—these extra quality combed cotton garments—in white, ecru, grey!	Boys' Knit Union Suits Button Shoulder Model 49c Ideal for this "in-between" season—the combed cotton giving just enough warmth and the elastic cut permitting full freedom.
---	---	--

J. C. Penney Co. Inc.
Where Thrift Sets the Fashion

SPORTSPAGE

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by William Braucher

Garnera and Maloney
It has become the habit among sports writers to discuss prize fights, especially those held between heavyweights, in an inquiring way.

What was supposed to happen? Is the question. Thus, after most of the affairs between the big boys nowadays, an investigation is required to find out what it was all about.

There is a division of opinion over the merits of the recent meeting of Garnera and Jimmy Maloney. Certain scribes with whom I talked on the way home from the world series, expressed themselves forcibly as suspicious of the arrangements. Their belief was that Garnera's handler was taking a new tack, trying to build him up with the idea that he can be beaten.

Well, well, we shall see what we shall see!

The Grimes Tragedy
YOUNG men who plan taking courses in oratory as adjunctive to a career in athletics should consider Battling Burleigh Grimes, and take pause. Burleigh has won a lot of ball games by pitching. During the world series he lost two by overworking his vocabulary.

If Mr. Grimes had concentrated more on the task in hand, rather than wise-cracking with the A's, he might have won that Monday battle in St. Louis when Jimmy Fox's home run broke up the meeting. Burleigh was pitching to Fox and talking to Simmons. Fox cracked a high one over the left field barrier and far away. It's best, my dears, to think of just one thing at a time.

I think Grimes realizes the mistake he made by broadcasting a few sharky-like remarks during the first game in Arkadelphia. The only thing he stirred up fight in the competition and determination to beat him, but his remarks brought reflections upon himself. After the story of his blustering speeches was put on the wires, Burleigh started receiving tele-

Many Expected to See Game Saturday

Two Hope Boys, Robison and Secrest, Listed in Line-up

LAFAYETTEVILLE, Oct. 22.—Stock in Arkansas' big red grid machine took a skyward turn following the Razorbacks' upset of the dope in humbling the Rice Owls. And with this knowledge and with their home state behind them, an optimistic but not cocky eleven will face the Texas Aggies at Little Rock Saturday.

"Rocketing overnight from the cellar to second place in the Southwest

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
FOOTBALLDOME'S first indoor game at night will be staged in the Auditorium at Atlantic City, Oct. 26. . . . Lafayette and W. and J. will be the contestants. Tons of soil have been used in preparing the indoor field. . . . Arrangements are being made to seat 22,000 spectators for the game. . . . They say that Frank Hood, Pitt's 200-pound fullback, can do everything. Brick Miller, Eddie Dooley and Bennie Friedman ever did in the forward passing art. . . . Hood has been known to heave the oval more than 80 yards. . . . but of course a pass that long in a regular game would be almost useless. . . . If, as the experts say, a hustling eleven makes its own breaks, they must be saying nice things about the Princeton Tigers. . . . The Orange and Black scored 17 points in the first period against Amherst. . . . They fell on a blocked punt behind the Amherst goal, resulting two fumbles deep in Amherst territory and scored on an 88-yard run after intercepting an Amherst pass.

grams from friends asking him how he got that way.

Burleigh became so incensed that he rebuked several of the newspapermen who filed the story, charging they had misinterpreted his assertions and exaggerated in such a way as to make him appear somewhat clownish.

The writers, of course, were very sad to hear that Burleigh was displeased. It was very excruciating.

Grimes, however, realizes he made the mistake himself. Maybe he'll take from the whole thing a lesson. If he does, he ought to become a pretty good pitcher some day—after he has had a little more experience.

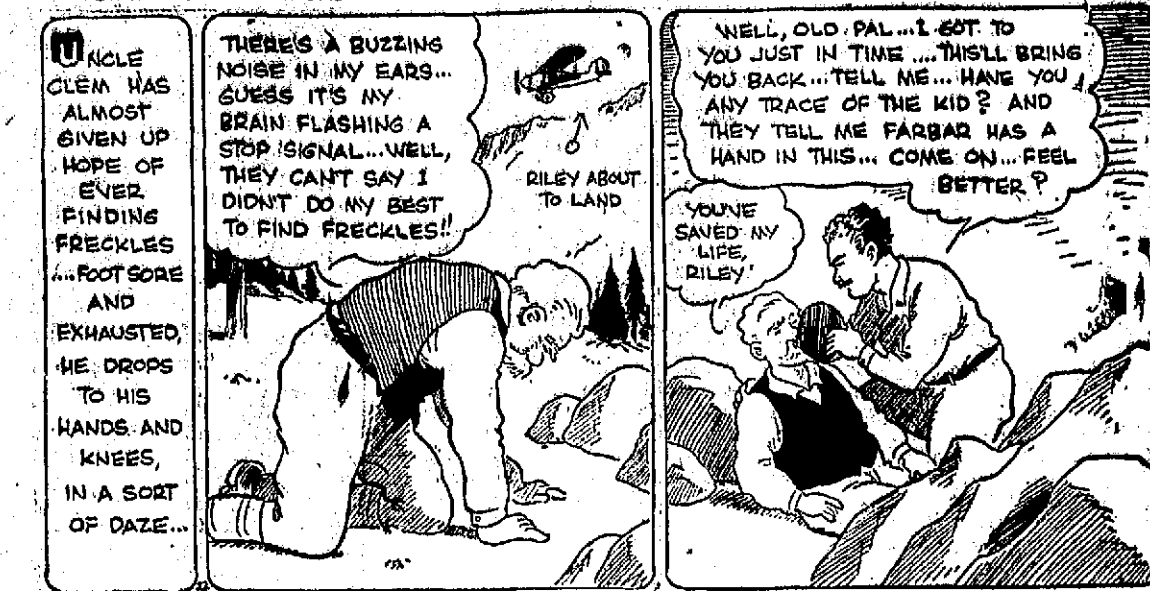

Conference scramble, Arkansas will make desperate efforts to stay in the top division." Head Coach Fred Thomsen said. "We will probably have our full strength in the lineup for the first time this season if Holmes' sore shoulder is O. K. And it should be by Saturday."

Thomsen gave his charges a rest Monday and Tuesday. They were sent through a light signal drill, with a number of the players suffering from minor bruises sustained in the Rice game.

"In our practice this week we will stress our offense for the Aggie clash," coach said. It was pointed out that Texas A. & M. has one of the best defensive elevens in the Southwest. Texas Christian University, 1928 champions, were unable to cross the determined Aggies' goal-line.

"With Chick Holmes back in the lineup, Arkansas will be able to shoot its big offensive gun—the forward pass—against a conference opponent for the first time this season," said Thomsen.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

In event that Holmes, veteran signal caller, is back at his old post, Upmooor and Ledbetter will be stationed at the halfback position, with Jack Dale at full.

"Cowboy" Kyle, Arkansas' blonde blizzard, with Henry Phillips, latest sophomore find, will be kept on the bench ready for use when the Razorbacks get in scoring position. Both Kyle and Phillips are speed merchants and elusive broken field runners. It was Kyle's two dashes of 15 and 20 yards that gave Arkansas a touchdown and victory over Rice in the first five minutes of play last Saturday.

The red-shirted forward wall will probably line up against Texas A. & M. exactly as they did against Rice. Captain Creighton and Chambers will be at the ends, Darr and Secrest at the guards, Robison and Erwin at the tackle berths, with Kelly or Bucklew at center.

Thomsen and Line Coach Chuck Bassett, with a squad of 23 players will train Thursday night for Little Rock. Arkansas' headquarters in the capital city will be established at the Marion Hotel. The Razorbacks will hold their final drill Friday afternoon on Kavanaugh field.

A trainload of Razorback rooters accompanied by the Arkansas Pep band, will leave on a special train from the Ozark Hills Friday night.

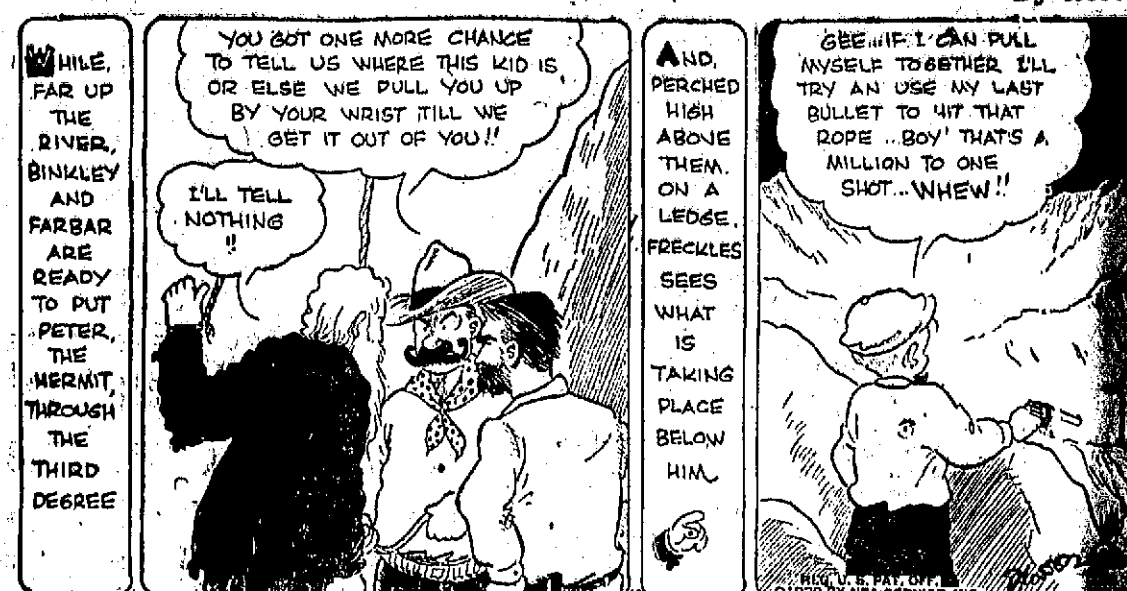

Officials for the game Saturday are as follows: Boynton (Williams) referee; Bell (Vanderbilt) umpire; Ryan (Missouri) field judge; and Boswell (T. C. U.) head linesman.

British Abolish Pack Drill As Punishment

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Pack drill, one of the dreaded punishments of the British soldier, has been abolished by an amendment to King's Regulations.

Hitherto, men confined to barracks for offenses against military law, have often been sentenced to dress in full marching kit with heavy packs on the back and drill for hours at a time. Now, they will be given "useful instruction," according to the amendment.

To the Rescue

Bobcats Ready For Arkadelphia Game

Game to Be Held Thursday on Account of College Game Friday

Hope Bobcats series of home games have ended, they journey to Arkadelphia Thursday where they meet the high school team of that city in the season's sixth game. Arkadelphia's football team presents an unknown quantity as did Malvern last week. However this team has just been defeated by Benton high and that school never has a premier football team.

With five games played, four won and one lost, and the lone defeat received at the hands of one of Arkansas' strongest football squads, Hope Bobcats have a fairly good idea of their rating in football circles. With the two hardest fights near the end of the schedule, Prescott and Camden, the Bobcats now have only two games to go before their standing will not be a thing to surmise on but will show up at par.

The last game leaves the team still intact. While Harrell has an injury received in that game from which he is still suffering he will appear in the next affair as usual. Jacks too leaves the bench to get back in the fight. Practice continued without interruption and the Cats will be ready for Arkadelphia Thursday.

This week's game is scheduled on Thursday by reason of the college game at Arkadelphia Friday. The Bobcats are carrying along the school band and the pep squad will make the

Chicago Optometrist Offers $20 Spectacles For $2.98

Sends Them On 10 Days Trial

A Chicago Optometrist, Dr. S. J. Ritholz, registered and licensed by the State of Illinois and under State Government Supervision, has devised a new comfort spectacle that will not break or tarnish and leaves no mark on the nose or face. These spectacles are really beautiful, give wearer a distinguished appearance and will enable anyone to read the finest print, see far or near. The Doctor offers to send a pair on 10 days trial to any standing that if they are not amazed reader of this paper with the undoubted delighted and do not think the spectacles he offers at $2.98 equal to those sold elsewhere at $20, they will be out nothing. Just send name, address and age today to Dr. S. J. Ritholz, Suite A-10, 1445 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill., for a 10 day trial and learn how you may get them without cost, also new catalogue free.

BAD SPELLS OF BACKACHE

This Lady's Husband Urged Her To Take Cardui—Soon Benefited.

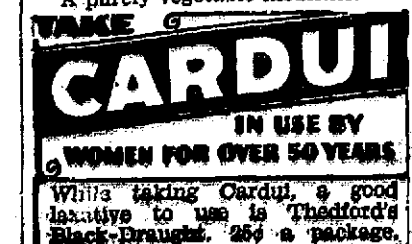

Troy, Ala.—"Cardui has done me good, and it has done my 16-year-old daughter so much good," says Mrs. J. W. Jurgens, of this place, "that I felt I wanted other women to know the facts about it, so I wrote to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., telling them about my helpful experience with this medicine, Cardui."

"I have used it at intervals for sixteen years, when I suffered from weakness, and it always helped me. Mostly I was afflicted with bad spells of backache. At times I felt as if my back would break. I would drag one foot after the other, in a helpless sort of way, and once I got down in bed."

"My husband urged me to take Cardui, and I soon found what a fine medicine it really was."

"When my second child was little, I was in very bad health. I did not pick up as I should have. I was weak and sickly. I do not believe that I would have come through, but for Cardui."

A purely vegetable medicine. #413

Notice of First Meeting of Creditors

In the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Arkansas, Texarkana Division, In Bankruptcy.

In the matter of J. C. Green & Son, partnership John C. Green and Oscar Daniel Green, individually, of Fulton, in the County of Hempstead, State and District aforesaid, a Bankrupt.

To the Creditors of the above named

Bankrupt

Notice is hereby given that on October 20, 1936, the above named party was duly adjudicated a bankrupt and that the first meeting of the creditors will be held at my office in the City of Texarkana on November 4, 1936, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Bankrupt's claim for exemption will be investigated at the same time and place.

GUSTAVUS G. POPE, Referee in Bankruptcy, Texarkana, Ark.

Ancient Art Works to Be Sold at Auction

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—(UP)A collection of graphic art works which has been maintained in its present form for almost five centuries will be sold at auction by Holstein and Puppel in Berlin in November.

The collection includes specimens of the "cut-metal art," which existed for only a few decades of the 15th century. Three sheets representing St. George, Mount Calvary and St. Andrew provide interesting specimens of this art.

A collection of copper engravings assembled about the year 1700 is also being offered at the same auction. It contains an especially rich collection of copper engravings and woodcuts by Lucas van Leyden.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

By Laufer

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE — 35,000 MILES, AND SO LITTLE CARBON!

Motors in which ESSO is used are not troubled with carbon. It's no uncommon thing to run 35,000 to 50,000 miles without taking the head off the motor. In fact, the presence of carbon --- by increasing compression --- actually adds to the power of ESSO --- without causing fuel knock.

ESSO makes all motors --- new or old --- run better and last longer. Give it a fair trial, and you, too, will join the ESSO boosters.

ESSO

TRADE MARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

THE GIANT POWER FUEL

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF LOUISIANA

WE SELL "STANDARD" PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

J. A. Henry & Son

Open Evenings Till Nine Hope, Arkansas

Hope Auto Company

Authorized Ford Dealers Hope, Arkansas

Heart Hungry

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN
AUTHOR OF "RASH ROMANCE"

© 1930 by NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Adventure enters the life of CELIA MITCHELL, 27, when she inherits the title of the girl who is dead to the world and wealthy. She leaves her unimpeachable home in Baltimore to live in New York with her father, JOHN MITCHELL, and her aristocratic grandmother, MARGARET ROBERTS. Celia's mother, is now a widow, having divorced Mitchell and remarried later. BARRY STUBBS, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl and before leaving Baltimore, Celia promises to be loyal to his love. Mitchell asks EVELYN PARSONS, beautiful widow, to introduce the girl to young people. Mrs. Parsons agrees, considering Celia a means to win Mitchell's friendship, though she is jealous and at once begins scheming to get rid of the girl.

The introduction to JORDAN JORDAN, fascinating but of dubious character, and does all she can to encourage this match. LEST BINGMAN, socially prominent, Mitchell's former friend, and his daughter attend the party. Celia's first glimpse of her grandmother and the elderly Mrs. Mitchell, who is ill and in need of a rest. The girl goes to a summer home in the mountains for a lengthy visit. Jordan calls frequently. He and Celia go to a summer home in the mountains where they encounter EVELYN PARSONS, who is married and does not interfere with her flirtations.

Five above, Celia a diamond bracelet which she says Jordan gave her. Her mother denies this. The girl later calls on Mrs. Parsons and is quarreled and afterward becomes reconciled. Celia visits the Mitchell home in the city. She tries to learn from MARTHA, a trusted servant, why her parents, John and Margaret Mitchell, separated.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXV

THE color rose high in Celia's cheeks as she waited for the answer. The gray-haired maid looked embarrassed.

"Oh, no, Miss Celia. I couldn't say anything about that."

"But you must have known!" the girl persisted. "You're not like the other servants, Martha. You're almost a companion to grandmother. Why, you're with her half of the time. Maybe I ought not to ask you, but don't you see how I feel? I can't talk to father and nobody else will tell me anything. Oh, I wish—here Celia turned her head and her voice sounded as though tears were near—"I wish it had never happened!"

For an instant the maid hesitated. Then she came over to the girl and patted her shoulder.

"Poor lamb!" Martha said sympathetically. "Poor lamb!"

Celia hid her face against Martha's ample skirt. Her shoulders moved, but there was no sound of sobbing. After a moment she sat up and wiped her eyes.

"Did you ever see my mother?" she asked.

Martha nodded.

"It was right after they were married," she said. "I remember. You see, nobody knew anything about the wedding until a telegram came. Oh, but your grandmother was upset! For one whole day she stayed in her room. Then when she came out she told us that John was married and was bringing home his wife. There was a lot of work to be done. It was a week later they came. Pretty thing she was. You've got the same eyes, Miss Celia. I noticed that the minute I caught sight of you. Yes, she was a pretty thing. Slim like you are, too."

"Mother's eyes are larger than mine," Celia told her. "They're beautiful. Only of course she looks tired so much now, and her hair's gray."

"Gray? The way I remember it her hair waved just the same as yours does. Maybe a little darker brown. She wore it in a knot up on her head. She was a quiet kind, but I took to her right away. Only she and John didn't stay very long. I guess it was some kind of a disagreement between John and his mother. They left one morning and never came back. That is, she did."

The girl had been listening eagerly. She slipped the buttermilk. "Did my father come back alone?" she asked.

"Not for a long while. Five or six years it must have been. That was the first I heard that his wife—I mean—that they were separated."

"And you never heard the reason why?"

MARTHA'S lips pressed together firmly. She shook her head negatively. "Eat your cookies, child," the woman said, "I must be getting along with my work."

As the door closed behind her Martha Riley raised her eyes heavenward. She made the sign of the cross over her breast.

"God forgive me," she whispered devoutly. "The poor child! Staking her head pessimistically, Martha moved toward the kitchen."

Celia ate two of the ginger snaps. They were the old-fashioned kind, and after her hasty breakfast she was hungry. Then she finished the buttermilk. She was trying to picture her mother as she must have looked when she came to the Grammarly Park house a bride. Probably she had been in this very room.

The girl looked about her. Why had her mother never spoken of the visit? At once she knew the answer. Something very unpleasant must have happened there.

Celia got up and moved restlessly. There was a great deal of time to waste. It was only a little after 11. Evelyn was not likely to telephone until 12.

Somewhere in the bookcases which lined the walls there was a volume which had interested her.

She located "Comrad in Quest of His Youth" and began to read. The buzz of the telephone startled her. "Hello!" Celia answered. She recognized Evelyn Parsons' voice.

"Celia—is that you, dear? Oh, I'm so sorry. I've been having the most awful luck. Do you know what time it is?"

The girl looked at her watch.

"Almost 12:30," she said.

"So late? That's what I was afraid of. My dear, I won't be able to have lunch with you. Do you suppose the cook can fix you a bite at the house? I'm terribly sorry, really I am. You see we've got started on these tiresome old papers and Mr. Henderson insists we must go ahead. It's likely to take an hour—"

"But I don't mind waiting," Celia assured her. "I've been reading. I didn't know it was lunch time."

"No, no. I wouldn't impose upon you that way!" Evelyn spoke firmly. "If you think they can give you something to eat where you are I'll promise to drop around and pick you up at 2:30. We might see a matinee."

Celia said she was certain she could arrange about lunch. She was pleased at the thought of seeing the motion picture. Film plays were still a treat. It was agreed that Evelyn should stop for her at 2:30.

Putting the receiver on its hook Celia went to consult with Martha. Evelyn Parsons, at the other end of the connection, smiled secretly as she rested the French telephone upon its stand. She was in the extensively furnished waiting room which the firm of Henderson and Henderson provided for its clients. The call to Celia had been the second she had made that morning.

Mrs. Parsons opened her handbag, consulted her reflection in the square mirror critically. She made a few improvements with powder and lipstick, then closed the handbag. After that she rose and stepped out into the corridor. A swiftly descending elevator carried her 20 floors to the ground.

There were a few minutes of delay and then she was in her car, driving uptown. A glance at her jeweled wrist watch informed her that there was time enough. After that she sat back and devoted herself to the prospects ahead. There was shrewdness back of the smile lurking about her eyes.

THE car stopped before a fashionable hotel and a liveried attendant opened the door. Mrs. Parsons stepped to the sidewalk, gave her chauffeur a few words of instruction and entered the hotel.

She walked through the richly decorated lobby until she reached a certain alcove. There were chairs there, but only one was occupied. Evelyn Parsons sat down to wait.

There was an air of distinction about the black and white frock Evelyn was wearing. Her hat had been designed by Reboux. She looked like a woman any man would be glad to be seen dining with. Her manner, complacent and assured, conveyed the same impression.

Whomever she was expecting was late. Several times Evelyn glanced at the tiny wrist watch.

Then, half-way across the lobby, she saw a man coming toward her. Mrs. Parsons stood up.

"How do you do?" she smiled, offering her hand.

"Evelyn, I'm sorry to be late. Caught in traffic. I'd have gotten here sooner if I'd walked, but I thought a cab would save time. I hope you'll forgive me."

John Mitchell's apology was spoken sincerely.

"Don't think of it another moment," Evelyn told him. "I didn't mind waiting in the least."

"Let's go in to lunch at once." They entered an ivory and blue dining room that was cool and softly shaded. The head waiter, bowing deferentially, led them to a table for two at one side of the room.

When they were seated Mitchell ordered, then sat back and looked at his companion.

EVIDENTLY she had slighted an acquaintance. Evelyn was nodding and smiling toward a table at the right, where a man and woman sat. The couple returned the greeting.

"It's Nancy and Boyd Fraser," Evelyn said to Mitchell. "You know them, don't you?"

"Don't believe I do."

"Oh, I forgot. It was in Paris I met them. Don't they look happy together? One of the most devoted couples I've ever met. He's in real estate—Westchester company, I think. You know, I love to see them. Boyd simply adores his wife! That sort of affection seems such a novelty these days."

"You sound cynical."

"Not at all! You see, to me marriage is—well, such a sacred thing. That's why this frightful modern way of treating it lightly hurts me, I suppose. When I see couples who truly love each other and are not ashamed to admit it I can't help rejoicing."

Evelyn's gaze was sweet and pensive. Her eyes rested on Mitchell a moment, then she smiled.

"Anyone else would think me a Victorian. I hope you don't, John."

"You never looked younger—or lovelier."

Before Evelyn could reply the waiter arrived with chilled fruit. Fastidiously he arranged the service. When the man disappeared John Mitchell leaned forward.

"Do you remember that young fellow Celia spent so much time with the night of her birthday party? Jordan his name is—Tod Jordan. Remember she came home late? I'm sure I told you about it."

Mrs. Parsons nodded.

"I remember," she said. Very tense and still she waited.

Mitchell applied a match to a cigarette before he spoke. He eyed the flame carefully.

"I've got a line on that young man," he said quietly. "Got it this morning."

(To Be Continued)

Officials Greet Legion Chief

High officials of the United States government and the state of Kansas were on hand at the railroad station in Topeka to greet the American Legion's new national commander, Ralph T. O'Neil, on his return there from Boston. In this picture Commander O'Neil, right, is shown being greeted by Vice President Curtis and Governor Reed of Kansas.

her home a sack of potatoes, some bacon and other things and I was tired. When I awoke and found myself looking like a feather duster I got mad, that's all."

Ramm was sent home to "make up" with his wife.

New Cuban Highway Will Reveal Tropical Scenery

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—(UP)—A region of verdant tropical beauty will be opened in Cuba within the year by a highway extending 500 miles and bisecting the island. The highway, which when it is constructed will have cost $100,000,000, is only one-fifth of completion. It was begun in 1927.

J. P. Reis, American paving expert who has been engaged in supervising construction of the road in Camaguey province, said that in addition to making accessible beautiful areas to tourists, the highway will prove an important economic factor.

Canary Trio Flies From Great Britain to India

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Three canaries have flown the 5,000 miles from Croydon to India in a British air mail plane.

They were fed en route by an official of the air line, their special food supply being actually heavier than the combined weight of the canaries and their cages. The cost was seven shillings and sixpence (approximately $1.80) for each bird.

Beauty Contests Banned For Natives of Kenya

ROME, Oct. 22.—(UP)—The demoralizing effect of beauty contests of the Western World has no place in the life of the Kenya Colony, according to a recent ruling of the district commissioner.

A contest for Kenya beauties was planned in connection with an exhibit of products at Nyeri. Catholic missionaries, learning of the plan, protested to the commissioner on the ground that the effect would be demoralizing.

What The Normal Man Should Weigh

Ages 45 to 49

According to Leonard Williams, D. a gifted writer on Obesity, a man's normal weight at ages 45 to 49 is:

5 Ft. 7 inches	155 Pounds
5 Ft. 8 "	161 "
5 Ft. 9 "	167 "
5 Ft. 10 "	172 "
5 Ft. 11 "	178 "
6 Ft. 0 "	184 "
6 Ft. 1 "	191 "
6 Ft. 2 "	197 "

These weights include ordinary indoor clothing. Get on the scales and see if you are overweight and how much.

The Modern way takes off the known as the Kruschen Method, is well worth a four weeks trial. Cut out pies, cakes, pastry and ice cream for 4 weeks—go light on potatoes, butter, cheese, cream and sugar—eat moderately of lean meat, chicken, fish, salads, green vegetables and fruit—take one half a teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning.

An 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—get it at Bryant's Drug Store, Ward & Son, or any drug store in the world.

Unemployment Is Discussed Today

Representative Leaders of American Life Attend Chicago Meeting

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Leaders of the American business and industrial world assembled in Chicago today with 27 university presidents to discuss the current business depression and evolve means of reducing unemployment.

The delegates, attending the seventh conference of a series, represented the most powerful corporations, presidents and prominent educators in the nation. Among the 140 men invited are the leaders of 18 major industries.

Discussion will be centered on 11 fields of industry and the methods by which activity can be stimulated in each. Depression in most of the lines has increased interest in the conference.

The businesses and industries which will be considered are agriculture, shipping, rubber, aviation, communication, general business, automobiles, iron and steel, merchandise, railroads and petroleum.

Discussions will be under the direction of Robert W. Hutchins, youthful president of Chicago University, and Thomas E. Wilson of the American Meat Packers' Association.

Among those expected to take part were Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Oil Company; W. B. Storey, president of the A. T. and S. F. Railroad; M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting Company; Charles E. Mitchell, president of the board of the National Bank of New York; Julius Rosenwald, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck Company; Samuel Reynolds, president of Lord and Taylor; Arthur Reynolds, chairman of the board of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company; Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times.

H. A. Scandrett, president of the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad; Harry Woodburn Chase, president of the University of Illinois; Winthrop Ames, theatrical producer; Mark Cressap, chairman of the board of Hart Schaffner and Marx; L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central System.

Charles Schwab, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel Company; Walter Strong, president of the board of the Chicago Daily News; E. C. Sams, president of J. C. Penney Company; Walter Chrysler, chairman of the board of Chrysler Motors; Dr. Glenn Frank, president of Wisconsin University.

Others invited are Harvey S. Firestone, Irene DuPont, James A. Farrell, Eugene G. Grace, Edsel Ford, A. P. Sloan, Jr., M. J. and O. P. Van Sweringen, Vincent Bendix, Kent a shave and hair cut. Honest judge Cooper, William Randolph Hearst, Col. I wasn't drunk; I had just brought

R. R. McCormick, Joseph H. Patterson, William Allen White, Samuel Insull, Owen D. Young, James Simpson, S. S. Kresge, Silas Strawn, Edward G. Seubert, Cecil B. DeMille, William Fox, David W. Griffith, Otto H. Kahn, A. F. Giannini, T. W. Lamont, David Belasco, Andrew W. Mellon, Arthur H. Hyde, Ray Yzman, Wilbur and Alexander Leggett.

The sixth annual conference was held in Chicago a year ago. The 1931 conference will be in New York.

'Feather Duster' Man Set Free After Telling Story

SEATTLE, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Indignation because his wife made him "look like a feather duster" landed L. P. Ramm, 55, in jail, but his story gained him his release.

"I was asleep, your honor, when my wife came and dumped a whole pillow full of feathers over me. She said, 'You see it because I spent money for Swearingen, Vincent Bendix, Kent a shave and hair cut. Honest judge Cooper, William Randolph Hearst, Col. I wasn't drunk; I had just brought

Quick Results At Low Cost — — — With

STAR WANT ADS

And remember—the more you tell, the quicker you sell.

RATES: 1 insertion, 10c per line, minimum 30c
3 insertions, 7c per line, minimum 50c
6 insertions, 6c per line, minimum $1.00
26 insertions, 5c per line, minimum $4.00.
(Average 5-12 words to the line)

The Want Ad Phone Number Is 7 6 8

FOR RENT

Two nicely furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Everything furnished. Mrs. D. T. Chamberlain, 717 South Main. Phone 315.

FOR RENT—Modern furnished apartment. Telephone 364. Mrs. George Middlebrooks. 23-1f

FOR RENT—Three room furnished apartment. Call Mrs. B. L. Rettig. 111f

FOR RENT—Six room house, all conveniences, close in. Apply Mrs. Marie McCormick, Fourth and Pine.

FOR RENT—Three room furnished apartment in front of Oglesby school apply J. A. Sullivan. 15-6tp

FOR RENT—Modern four room furnished apartment with bath, garage. 425 N. Elm St. Apply J. A. Sullivan. 15-6tp

FOR SALE

Narcissus, hyacinths and tulip bulbs. Monte Seed Store. 21-3f.

FOR SALE—11 volumes "Our Wonderful World" books. Good condition. Bargain. Phone 438J. 18-3f.

FOR SALE—One ton 1927 Ford model truck with cab. Tires in good shape, motor runs good. Starter and good battery. Phone 1842-2-1

Winter rye grass for lawn and cemetery. Monte Seed Store. 21-3f.

FOR SALE—One set Goodyear casings and tubes, size 31x900 (600x19) inquire at this office. 2 ftc

FOR SALE—Good work horse, bargain for quick sale. 996 West Fifth.

Have well conditioned hens, feed Sure Good & Ready Ration, made by Southern Grain and Produce Co. 13-3f.

Why Durham-Duplex Blades are so carefully wrapped

When you open a package of Durham-Duplex Blades you see the most careful wrapping that science can devise.

The blades are placed in a patented folder, with the edges protected from contact with the paper by little tabs. This folder is then wrapped in a hermetically sealed waxed paper wrapper, making the blades absolutely sanitary and rust proof.

The bright red Durham-Duplex blade package is the Sign of Safety for over 12,000,000 men. Why not join them—today?

Interchangeable Blades 50c for package of 5
At All Leading Dealers

DURHAM-DUPLEX

The Blades Men Swear By—not At

Easy to look at

WHY are Camels welcomed with cheers in any company—a twosome or a crowd? Because they're mild—not flat or tasteless but naturally mild. They have the marvelous aroma that only choice tobaccos, mellowed by golden sunshine, then expertly cured and superbly blended, can give a cigarette. There's nothing artificial about this delightful fragrance. No doctoring, no over-processing can produce it. Camel's refreshing mildness is there from the start.

Swing with the crowd to Camels. Learn the happy difference between true mildness and insipid flatness. Smoke without fear of throat-discomfort or after-taste—just for pleasure!

CAMELS

Easy to smoke

© 1930, W. J. Rorabacher
Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

"Richest Bachelor" Takes a Bride

No longer "America's richest bachelor," John Nicholas Brown is pictured with his bride, the former Miss Anne Kinsolving, after the wedding ceremony in St. Paul's Church, Baltimore. Descendant of an old and wealthy New England family, Brown now has a fortune variously estimated at from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000. Mrs. Brown is a former newspaperwoman. The couple were married by her father, Dr. A. B. Kinsolving, rector of the Baltimore church.

COLUMBUS

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Evans of Shreveport spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ellen. Mrs. David Wilson and Miss Aloyse Wilson visited with friends at Okay Wednesday. Mrs. J. S. Wilson, Sr., Jim Wilson, Jr., and J. F. Johnson spent Wednesday of last week with friends in Texarkana. Mr. R. White and Jim Stuart attended court at Washington Thursday and Friday. Mr. M. LaGrone of Hope was a visitor here recently. A. L. Propps of DeQueen was a visitor here last week. Mr. W. Smith of Nashville was in town Thursday. Ollie Robins of Ozan was a visitor here Thursday.

MELROSE

Green Laster-Melrose 4-H club met in joint session at the home of Mrs. O. L. Roberts, October 15. Twelve members and two visitors were present. They were: Mrs. Willis Cobb, Mrs. R. L. Lewallen, Mrs. F. W. Petre, Mrs. S. N. Murrey, Mrs. A. R. Nemberry, Mrs. C. P. Zimmerman, Miss Mary Newberry, Mrs. C. J. Oglesby, Mrs. F. L. Padgett, Mrs. J. F. Moody, Mrs. O. L. Roberts, Miss Martha Jane Bucher, Miss Cora Newberry, Miss Opal Byrom. Miss Bucher demonstrated the making and dipping of Christmas candies which consisted of six different varieties. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting. The next meeting is to be November 19 at the home of Mrs. A. R. Newberry and meat canning will be the subject of the program.

He Believed in Signs

CHOBHAM, Surrey, (UP)—George Reeve, 59, a dry-goods store manager, hanged himself from a signpost directing wayfarers to "Paradise Meadows."

A Co-Ed at 13

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

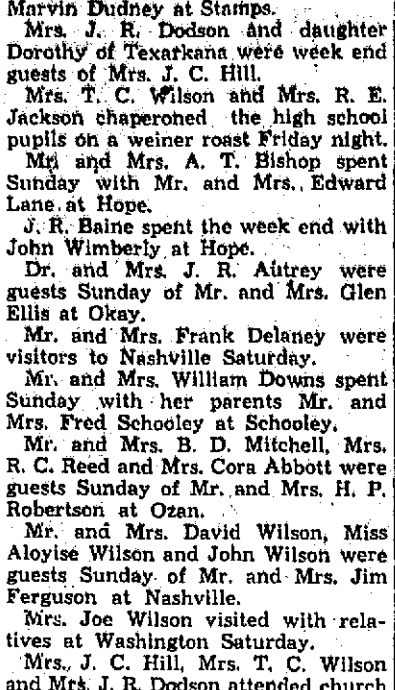

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

A Capital Deb

(C.) Dachnehl
Miss Caroline Hyde, daughter of the secretary of agriculture, is one of the more prominent of the Washington debutantes for the social season of 1930-31.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to acknowledge the kindness and sympathy so beautifully expressed by the many friends of the family during our bereavement. Words cannot express our deep and sincere gratitude. We can only pray God's blessing on each and every one who has been so kind and thoughtful of us at the most trying and heart-rending time in our lives.

Mrs. T. A. Turner,
Glady's Turner,
Corra, Turner,
Tommy Turner.

Centenarian Credits Her Long Life to Luck

COLUMBUS, Ind., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Luck is accredited by Mrs. Mary Ann Stull for her age of 100.

"You know how the reapers sometimes fail to cut a stalk of wheat at harvest time? Well, I guess that's the way with me," she said, at the celebration of her century anniversary.

Mrs. Stull has worked hard, eaten wisely, slept well and worried as little as possible, she said. She was born at Belmont, O., October 8, 1830.

He Believed in Signs

CHOBHAM, Surrey, (UP)—George Reeve, 59, a dry-goods store manager, hanged himself from a signpost directing wayfarers to "Paradise Meadows."

A Co-Ed at 13

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

A Capital Deb

(C.) Dachnehl
Miss Caroline Hyde, daughter of the secretary of agriculture, is one of the more prominent of the Washington debutantes for the social season of 1930-31.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to acknowledge the kindness and sympathy so beautifully expressed by the many friends of the family during our bereavement. Words cannot express our deep and sincere gratitude. We can only pray God's blessing on each and every one who has been so kind and thoughtful of us at the most trying and heart-rending time in our lives.

Mrs. T. A. Turner,
Glady's Turner,
Corra, Turner,
Tommy Turner.

Centenarian Credits Her Long Life to Luck

COLUMBUS, Ind., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Luck is accredited by Mrs. Mary Ann Stull for her age of 100.

"You know how the reapers sometimes fail to cut a stalk of wheat at harvest time? Well, I guess that's the way with me," she said, at the celebration of her century anniversary.

Mrs. Stull has worked hard, eaten wisely, slept well and worried as little as possible, she said. She was born at Belmont, O., October 8, 1830.

He Believed in Signs

CHOBHAM, Surrey, (UP)—George Reeve, 59, a dry-goods store manager, hanged himself from a signpost directing wayfarers to "Paradise Meadows."

A Co-Ed at 13

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

PROVIDENCE

We are very glad to have Dean and Marie, Garrison, George, Ambrose and Bettie Lee Bright as pupils in our school. Some of the pupils have not entered school yet, and they should for one month has passed.

Mr. and Mrs. Y. D. Gentry of Hope spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Byers.

Mrs. Leo Ray was shopping in town Saturday.

M. and Mrs. P. D. Campbell and son Glenwood and Perry visited relatives at Lewisville Sunday.

Horace Bateman is visiting his sister Mrs. Nellie Moore of Hugo, Okla.

Mrs. R. A. Crowder of Texarkana and Mrs. J. A. Simmons of Green Laster spent Saturday with A. F. Simmons and family.

Edgar Bateman of Washington, Ind., who has been visiting Zan Bateman and family returned to his home last Thursday.

R. G. Byers was called to Idabel, Okla., Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Simmons moved to John Tonnemakers' place Saturday.

Miss Mary Morrow of Waterloo spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks here.

Don't forget Sunday school at this place every Sunday at 2 p. m.

Superintendent Says Park Housing Too Many Bears

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Bears in Yellowstone National Park have reached the peak which their numbers should be permitted to maintain, says Superintendent Roger W. Toll.

This means that about 30 black bears and 10 grizzlies will have to be disposed each year. It is claimed that a larger number would be a menace to visitors and that the natural food supply is insufficient for more than the present 160 grizzly bears and 450 black bears.

Cops Found Sleepy Wife

EAST GRINSTEAD, Eng. (UP)—Police in search of stolen goods, insisted on searching a tramp's ramshackled perambulator, only to find in it the tramp's wife fast asleep.

Bulldog Jake—Excuse me, Mister, gimme a quarter, willya? I'm just out of the penitentiary.

Kind Old Gent—Well, what were you put in the penitentiary for?

Bulldog Jake—For killing a man who refused to give me a quarter.

He Believed in Signs

CHOBHAM, Surrey, (UP)—George Reeve, 59, a dry-goods store manager, hanged himself from a signpost directing wayfarers to "Paradise Meadows."

A Co-Ed at 13

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Goodsole—I am soliciting for the poor. What do you do with your cast-off clothing? Mr. Bodoff—I hang them up carefully and don my pajamas. Then I put them back on in the morning.

He Believed in Signs

Judge—Why didn't you speak to your wife for a whole year? Prisoner—I don't want to interrupt her.—Arkansas Banker.

He Believed in Signs

Although she is only 13, Dorothy Woods is regularly enrolled as a freshman at Louisiana State University. Incidentally, she thereby upholds a family tradition for precocity, her cousin, Rodney Woods, having won election to the Louisiana senate at 25. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and lives in Litcher, La.

He Believed in Signs

Mrs. Dubleigh—I want to do something that will draw out the conversational abilities of my guests. Mrs. Tiltmore—that's easy. Give a musical.

OUT OUR WAY

HEROES ARE MADE—NOT BORN.